Resolution Text

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention authorize for use throughout the Church under Article X.c until the 82nd General Convention, with the consent of the Bishop or the Ecclesiastical Authority, the Alternative Texts for the Good Friday Liturgy, Standing Commission on Liturgy and Music (SCLM) Blue Book report pp. 18-27, with the following revisions:

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 19: Revise Epistle to read "Ephesians 1:3-14 or Hebrews 4:14-16; 5:7-9"

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 19: In the rubric that begins "The Passion Gospel may be read," add the following sentence: "The Notes at the end of this liturgy include suggested translations of the Passion Gospel."

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 23: In the first collect, change "O God of Abraham and Sarah" to "O God of Abraham [and Sarah and Hagar]"

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 23: Revise "For the contemptuous and the scornful" to read "For those who are contemptuous or scornful"

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 26: In the concluding collect, replace "sinner" with "sinners" and "Gather" with "Father"

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 26: Revise the first note, adding italicized text and deleting text that is struck through, as follows: "The options for the reading from the epistles are designed to provide alternative perspectives on the meaning of the death of Jesus Christ. The traditional first reading from the Letter to the Hebrews (10:1-25), not included in this alternative liturgy, frames the death of Jesus as the final sacrifice offered to God. Jesus Christ becomes both the sacrifice and the high priest offering the sacrifice. The first alternative reading from the Letter to the Ephesians (1:3-14) situates the death of Jesus Christ within a larger arc of salvation history. God the Father chose his Son before creation to be for humans the means by which they attain redemption as children of God. This happens through the death of Jesus Christ, which secures the forgiveness of sins. In the reading from Hebrews (4:14-16, 5:5-7), currently an option in the Book of Common Prayer, the image of Jesus Christ as an interceding high priest does not call into question the validity of the Temple sacrifices given by God to the Jewish people to offer as worship. The source of salvation rests in Christ's obedience to God the Father, which those who follow Christ call upon for their own salvation."

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 26: In the third note, add the following sentence: "Congregations are encouraged to consider the introductory material and emended Passion according to John available from the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America as 'Seasonal Rites for the Three Days,' which is available for free download with copyright permission for congregational use.”

SCLM Blue Book Report p. 26: In the fourth note, revise the third sentence, adding italicized text and deleting text that is struck through, to read as follows: “While such a prayer has never been in the Episcopal Church’s Book of Common Prayer, it A prayer to this effect was in the 1789 and 1892 Prayer Books of the Episcopal Church and changed in the 1928 Book of Common Prayer. It is a legacy to which we are accountable, given that it at times inspired violence against Jews.”

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention enable concrete implementation of the bold charge laid out in GC80 Resolution A087 "Net Carbon Neutrality by 2030," which encouraged Episcopal congregations, dioceses, schools, camps, and other Episcopal institutions to pursue ambitious goals for reducing the church's carbon footprint, mitigating climate change, and living more sustainably and gently on God's good earth; and it do so through the formation and advancement of networks across the church dedicated to promoting action and accountability around 1) nature-based solutions, 2) renewable energy solutions, 3) agrarian, food justice and outdoor ministries – three areas where there is a) demonstrated passion and leadership and b) potential for dramatic, collective action and impact; and be it further

Resolved, That these networks share the following marks: host online and in-person gatherings to exchange best practices, share encouragement, maintain accountability and learn from experts; consciously incorporate the presence, concerns and experience of non-U.S. Episcopal communities; coordinate access to critical resources, including the

Episcopal Asset Map, Restor, or other mapping tools to track progress on emission-reduction, carbon sequestration, increased biodiversity, water quality and scarcity, agricultural transformation, etc.; share, when appropriate, financial and tangible resources; pray regularly for one another and the specific areas of creation care and justice to which they are called; and support one another if extreme climate events occur; and be it further

Resolved, That each network engage a Creation Justice Fellow and/or Consultant who partners with Episcopal Church Creation Care staff to support the network in the following ways: produce communications that inform and celebrate efforts across the network; collect data about the participating members, projects and properties; plan and implement gatherings; write grant proposals and provide other administrative support as needed; and be it further

Resolved, That The Episcopal Church affirm its commitment to prison ministries consistent with the current theological and spiritual values of The Episcopal Church and provide all of God's children with opportunities to minister to and with this marginalized and oppressed population, in accordance with the following principles and policies:

- The Episcopal Church supports inter- and multi-faith ministries that contribute to our mission to follow Jesus, loving our neighbors as ourselves (Matthew 22:36-40) and demonstrating particular care for those who are marginalized and oppressed (Matthew 25:31-46);
- Episcopalians find common cause and minister with organizations and individuals with whom we have theological differences, without proselytizing or demanding that our ministry partners adhere to the tenets we espouse;
- The over one million incarcerated individuals in this country are among the most marginalized and oppressed members of our society;
- Episcopalians faithfully engage in ministry with incarcerated individuals, seeking to provide support, encouragement, and hope to these persons;
- Among the many members of the incarcerated population as well as those who minister to and with them, are individuals who are LGBTQIA+, a community that also experiences marginalization in this country;
- Following the Way of Jesus, Episcopalians minister to and with all God's children, with special focus on the support and liberation of those who are oppressed;
- Our canons prohibit the denial of access to any ministry of this Church "because of race, color, ethnic origin, national origin, sex, marital or family status (including pregnancy and child care plans), sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, disabilities or age" (Canon III.1.2);

And be it further

Resolved, That Episcopalians may not be forced to overtly or tacitly endorse theological statements or practices that conflict with our stated policies and beliefs in order to participate in shared prison ministry programs; and be it further

Resolved, That this Convention encourage dioceses to develop and share programs for their members to minister with incarcerated individuals, those newly released from prison, and families and loved ones of incarcerated individuals in ways that are consistent with our Church's current spiritual teachings, principles, and policies.

Dear Lord, Almighty God, we pray for all Indigenous children who were in residential and boarding schools in Canada and the United States. Some died there; we ask that you give assurance to their descendants that their souls are with you and their ancestors. Some survived there; we ask that you give your healing grace to all who endured hardship while there and are still struggling with those memories. Lastly, we ask you to help us guard our children against harm in this world. All this we ask in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, now and for ever. Amen.

Resolution Text

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention condemn the practical and political effects of that collection of theologies popularly known as 'Christian Zionism,' which, distinct from historic Jewish Zionism, in its many manifestations, promotes an eschatology in which the Second Coming of Christ is contingent upon the existence of the modern State of Israel, wrongly conflates that State with biblical Israel, and denies both the legitimacy of Palestinian existence and right to statehood in the Holy Land; and be it further

Resolved, That The Episcopal Church, having embraced Resolution 2022-A216 acknowledging the threat to the Christian presence in the Holy Land from "Israeli radical groups who are actively seeking to undermine the Christian communities of the Holy Land," and who "seek to change fundamentally the historic multi-cultural, multi-ethnic, and multi-religious character of the region," recognize the significant contribution of Christian Zionism to that threat; and be it further

Resolved, That The Episcopal Church affirm its long-standing commitment to stand in solidarity with our Palestinian Christian sisters and brothers in the Holy Land, sharing their deep distress regarding the dramatic diminishment of that community.

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention invite all Episcopalians to play a role in working for a durable, just peace through philanthropy, study, advocacy, investment in Palestinian enterprises, divestment from all firms doing business in or with West Bank settlements (2018-B016, Develop Investment Criteria for Israel and Palestine Based on a Human

Resolved, That the Episcopal Church remember with the gratitude the work of faithful Christian and Episcopalian Frances Perkins, who is called the architect of the New Deal and the conscience of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and as the first woman cabinet member and Secretary of Labor oversaw the enactment of the of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 which for the first time banned oppressive child labor in United States federal law, and who is remembered each year in Lesser Feasts and Fasts on May 13th; and be it further,

Resolved, That the Episcopal Church oppose current attempts to weaken child labor laws at the state and federal levels, such as: repealing age verification and parental permission requirements; granting employers immunity from civil liability for workplace injuries, illness, or death; lowering minimum ages for working in hazardous industries, including meatpacking and industrial laundries; creating sub-minimum wages for teenagers; and extending the number of hours children are permitted to work; and be it further

Resolved, That the Episcopal Church recognize that the primary targets of these attempts to weaken child labor laws are our most vulnerable children, including very low-income and migrant children, who are often living apart from their parents; and be it further

Resolved, That the Episcopal Church's Office of Government Relations and Episcopal Public Policy Network support domestic and foreign policies to strengthen and enforce child labor laws in the United States of America and globally and throughout the labor supply chain, including supporting policies to:

- eliminate separate treatment of agricultural workers under federal employment law;
- fully fund enforcement of child labor standards at federal, state, and local levels, and enhance company penalties for violating these rules;
- eliminate sub-minimum wages for youth;
- eliminate or prohibit two-tiered systems, often labeled as training programs, which fail to protect children from hazardous work, especially in the agricultural sector;
- strengthen wage theft laws and provide resources to enforce them, especially for children;
- provide adequate protection and oversight for unaccompanied minor and refugee children after they are released to their sponsors;
- improve government oversight and transparency regarding the use of child labor in the global supply chain, and the use of diplomatic pressure on foreign governments and regulation of global corporations and their imported products to eliminate the use of oppressive child labor in factories and products;

And be it further

Resolved, That the Committee on Corporate Social Responsibility of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church take this resolution into account in the implementation of its corporate human rights screen and in corporate advocacy via the Church's investment portfolio, with attention to the use of child labor in the global supply chain of companies in which the church is invested.

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention celebrate and support the ministry of the Association for Episcopal Deacons (AED) which for the past 50 years, has served as the primary network to encourage and grow the diaconate, an order of ministry in The Episcopal Church, and provide resources and guidelines for its continuing development; and be it further

Resolved, That the Convention encourage individuals, congregations, seminaries, dioceses, and jurisdictions to support the work of AED by becoming members, participating in its conferences and activities, and engaging the work of diakonia in their own contexts; and be it further

Resolved, That this Convention looks forward to the day when The Episcopal Church engages more fully in resourcing and supporting the order of the diaconate; and be it further

Resolved, That in the meantime, this Convention requests the Executive Council's Joint Standing Committee on Finance to consider a one-time, $200,000 allocation to the Association for Episcopal Deacons to support the ministry of the over 3,400 deacons in The Episcopal Church; and be it further

Resolved, That this funding also be used for the AED to engage with Executive Council in creating a working group to support the development of a long-term plan for the ongoing support of the diaconate in The Episcopal Church, and to present it to the 82nd General Convention.

Resolution Text

Resolved, That the 81st General Convention acknowledge and mourn the prevalence of fatalities due to traffic accidents including pedestrians, cyclists, drivers, and passengers; recognize this as a justice issue due to the disparate impact that our road and transportation systems have on vulnerable populations, including impacts by race, disability status, age, and economic means; and seek for ways ensure that all people, especially children, can travel safely and be safe in their communities; and be it further

Resolved, That The Episcopal Church, with the help of the Office of Government Relations and the Episcopal Public Policy Network, support policies at the local, state, national, and international levels of governance to reduce traffic fatalities and increase transportation safety by:

- Prioritizing pedestrian, driver, and passenger safety in street design through use of traffic calming measures and investment in walkable communities;
- Incentivizing vehicle designs that promote pedestrian safety as well as passenger safety;
- Implementing policies to eliminate, minimize, or mitigate distracted or impaired driving;
- Creating safe ways to share the road with cyclists, pedestrians, and riders of other small vehicles such as scooters, including protected bike lanes and high-visibility sidewalks;
- Investing in expansive and flexible public transit networks, including high speed rail and bus rapid transit;

And be it further

Resolution Text

Resolved, That the Episcopal Church reaffirm and renew our call from March 2007 (in Executive Council Resolution EXC032007.31) to close and commit to never reopening the U.S. military detention facility at Guantánamo Bay, Cuba, or any similar site, twenty-two years after the first of 780 Muslim men and boys were sent there as detainees, recognizing that indefinite military detention without access to a fair trial is deeply unjust, that the military base in Cuba was used for this purpose to avoid legal and constitutional constraints, and that the torture carried out on many of those who are still detained is a moral stain on the United States; we further recognize that there has been no justice for the victims or families of 9/11 due to this torture and the military commission process; we call upon the U.S. government to use all of their diplomatic leverage to transfer immediately those men who have already been cleared for transfer, and for justice to be served for those men who have been charged in a way that offers closure for the 9/11 victims' families, and a swift, responsible, and lawful resolution of the cases of the remaining aging and increasingly ill men; and be it further

Resolved, That this Convention commend the work of The Episcopal Church's Office of Government Relations for continuing to shine a light on this issue even as prisoners continue to languish without trial, via their action alerts, public advocacy, and a recent webinar hosted by the Office of Government Relations with Presiding Bishop Curry and the National Religious Campaign Against Torture.

Resolution Text

Resolved, That this General Convention commend United Nations efforts and those of 190 countries who have made commitments to protect biodiversity and species preservation; and be it further

Resolved, That General Convention endorse the commitment by the U.S. government to conserve at least 30% each of U.S. lands and waters by the year 2030, as consistent with The Episcopal Church's commitment to care for creation; and be it further

Resolved, That General Convention direct the Office of Government Relations to advocate the implementation of these biodiversity and species preservation efforts in the United States and with multilateral and international partners; and be it further

Resolved, That in order to support the above commitments and to improve the health and resilience of ecosystems in their communities ("biodiversity"), General Convention urge dioceses, congregations, church camps, schools, and other institutions of The Episcopal Church to collaborate with their local communities, including congregations in other denominations, faith-based advocacy groups, non-profit organizations, and local and state governments to establish and implement effective land management practices to enhance and protect biodiversity for their communities and for church lands within these communities; and be it further

Resolved, That, Convention urge Episcopal Church leaders, as part of their fiduciary duties to care for church property and to protect biodiversity and the health and safety of people using such property, to make decisions about the operation, maintenance, lease, encumbrance, acquisition, or divestiture of church property, after careful consideration of the environmental issues that foreseeably arise in connection with such property, so that they strive to:

Manage church land and buildings to prioritize

1. the use of native plant species in order to help pollinator species thrive,
2. where reasonably feasible, onsite collection of stormwater for use onsite in dry weather and to reduce peak stormwater flows offsite during wet weather,
3. reduction in the use of irrigation, fertilizer, pesticides, and fossil fuel-fired equipment,
4. restoration of degraded areas, including appropriate reforestation efforts, and
5. the increase and improvement of wildlife habitat where reasonably feasible and consistent with applicable local law;

Consider the placement of conservation easements on church lands where lawful, appropriate, and effective in protecting important local ecosystems;

Address the potential presence in buildings of asbestos-containing material (ACM), lead-based paint (LBP), lead in drinking water, radon, toxic vapor intrusion, and mold, particularly as such conditions may affect children and other vulnerable populations;

Assess the potential for contamination with hazardous substances and petroleum arising either from current or past use of the property, diligence outlined by federal standards for commercial real estate diligence about such issues found in 40 C.F.R. Part 312;

Take timely and appropriate action to remedy identified hazards in such property and buildings;

And be it further

Resolved, That those who implement these practices and policies for protection and promotion of biodiversity and reduction of environmental hazards are asked to report such efforts by submitting them to the Creation Care website thereby providing usable information and templates for Congregations, Dioceses, Provinces, and the Creation Care ministry of the Episcopal Church.
